Added Touches

Franklin Heights High School had many major changes in the works, that were planned to be finished by August. One change was a new Athletic Recreation Facility (Field House), which will be a football field in length. This new facility will serve not only the students and faculty of Franklin Heights High School, but also our community. The new facility will include three basketball courts with a running track surrounding them. Also, locker rooms and community restrooms which will include sauna's. Besides these things, it will contain a wrestling room, a community meeting room, a community workout room, a gymnastics room, and a nice all-purpose floor. Gymnastics, weight lifting, wrestling, and track are just the start. This new facility will be the new place for freshmen basketball games, tennis practice, and volleyball practice. It will hold approximately 300 people on the bleachers, but will be used for more of an intramural type facility. Mr. LeBeau, our principal, said, "This is a tremendous asset to Franklin Heights High School, and our community...WE DESERVE THIS!!!!!"

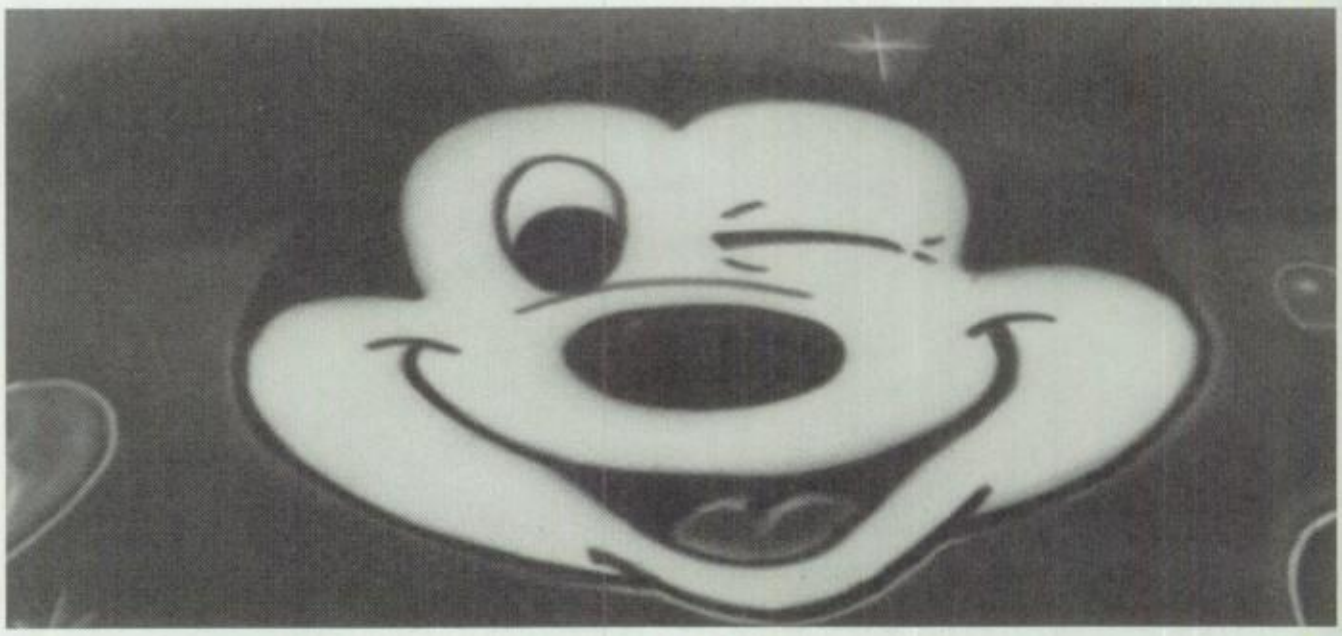
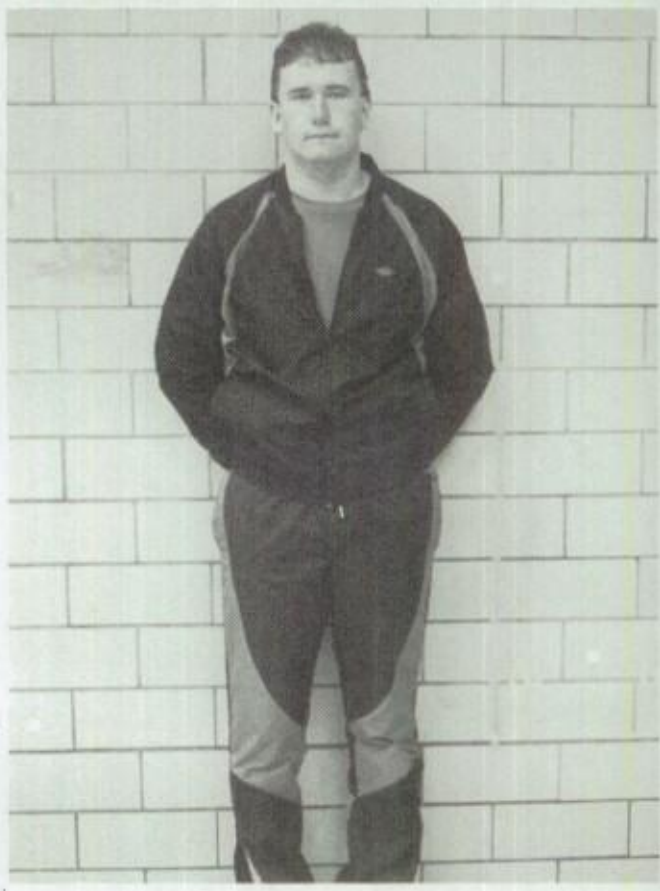
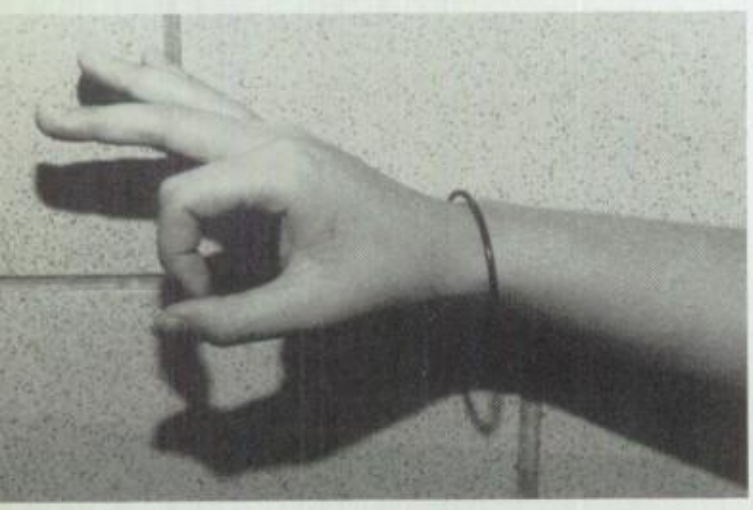
What's New and What's Not

What's new and what's not? In other words what exactly were the "in" things during the 1985-86 school year. Many things come and go, and so went the story this year too.

On this page we have the more popular items to date including: Mickey Mouse, Devonah White and Viki Wasmus displaying hawaiin shorts and mini-skirts, Lori Johnston has on flowered jeans, Jamie Dinzemore sporting in his Air Jordan tennis shoes and outfit, then we have the famous hand signal, (when and if you look at this sign the person displaying it is permitted to hit you), next is Jeff Decker with his new hairstyle, (crew cuts were also in), and last but certainly not least, we have Ken Arsenault showing off his Jams.







This page is full of things that were out. We will start with Kendra Wingo who is wearing a pair of suspenders. Then we see someone showing us their babydoll shoes. Also we have a person displaying their tail, then there is the little adorable E.T. who was an "in" thing for plenty of time, and last we have Prince, the singer. All of these things were just not as popular as they once were during the year.

SENIORS

What was so special about the class of 1986? This class displayed school spirit and leadership for all underclassmen to follow. They had great success in academics, and many were college bound. They lead the falcons to victory in athletics. And without a doubt, this class always strived to be on top. This class made a good team, and they, along with their president, Tammy Malone, accomplished many things throughout the 1985-86 school year. Also through the year several individuals from this class stood out as leaders for the whole school to take note of. Their dedication to being the best will always be a constant motivator for those who follow in the footsteps of the class of 86. They represented Franklin Heights with a certain style that will not be forgotten.

Big Turn Out

The Senior class officers worked hard at planning this past year's banquet at the Jai Lai. They had a tremendous turn out with 125 students and 15 faculty members.

The evening was filled with fun and laughter. After dinner everyone settled down to listen to our guest speaker, Mr. Chuck Otte, former English teacher at Franklin Heights. Later Mrs. Kruse and Mr. Albertson passed out the senior notable awards. It was a great success.

From 12:00 to 5:00 A.M.

Again held at the Moose Lodge on Demorest Road, the Senior All Night Party proved to be a fun last get together for members of 1986 graduating class. The party was strickly planned for seniors only and teachers who chose to join in. With its large party floor and swimming pool, the Moose was the perfect location for this party.

The weather was great and many of the seniors continued swimming past 2:00 am. Mr. Kryzinski said that he had a great time even though he was thrown in the pool against his wishes. There was plenty of food including all the pizza the seniors could hold. A disc jockey was hired to spin records and provide music for the dance floor.

A special thanks was expressed to Mrs. Kruze and Mr. Albertson for making this party possible.

Class Officers

This year senior officers spent many long after school hours planning and organizing activities for the senior class. Being a senior officer meant committment to school spirit and a willingness to go that extra mile. Each of these officers worked extremely hard to make Franklin Heights a great place to be and because of their efforts, the seniors will have many fond memories about Franklin Heights High School.

"From Scoops To Nuts"

-by Sandra Morin

A few seniors from Franklin Heights spent their free time working at Central Hardware. The employed "crew" consisted of Joe Deliz, Marty Davis, Pat Phelan, Chris Keigley and Bobby Sheehan. All four liked their jobs and agreed on what good experience the job was. Their jobs ranged from Bobby's key making to Marty's putting furniture together. The hours worked were favorable. The store was only open until 9:00, so when they got off work they still had time to go out with their friends. The pay was good and they received paid vacations and time and a half on Sundays. They all seemed to agree the only bad thing about their jobs had to be the supervisor always nagging at them, and the flourescent orange jackets they were forced to wear. For a couple this was only a temporary job for the means to make money to go to Florida and had other more permanent jobs already lined up. Their experiences from working there were filled with funny times from Chris sleeping on the forklifts, breaking picture frames because he didn't know what to do with them, to serious times filled with hard work.

At the Movies

-by Missy Crissman

"There's a job available at Westland Cinema for anyone who is interested. Stop by and apply there after school." An announcement like this prompted Tom Robbins to apply for what he thought would be "an easy way to make money." Was he in for a suprise.

Tom, who worked at the cinema for eight months, did "mainly everything." His work included selling tickets, answering the phone, selling popcorn and pop, serving as an usher (complete with a flashlight), threading the projectors, and cleaning the lobby.

His most memorable event was when he and senior Cherri Ward (who also worked there) were robbed at gunpoint. "I was scared," said Tom. "I gave him the money and he walked back out the door." The robber made off with $160.00 and Tom got to spend four hours at police headquarters looking at mug shots.

Despite being robbed and putting up with rude customers, Tom really enjoyed his job. "I got to see free movies and eat all the popcorn I wanted," he said.

Hilleary Serious About BMX

-by Sean Harris

Joe Hilleary is a senior. He rides BMX. For those unfamiliar with this term, it refers to bicycle motocross. Joe had been racing for 3 years. He decided to get involved in it when he saw some magazines and TV shows on it. Joe said, "It looked pretty bad so I decided to start practicing." Joe hasn't picked the most inexpensive sport either. The cost is roughly $1080.00 to get started. Mr. Hilleary rides once every 2 weeks on indoor and outdoor tracks such as the ones at Hilliard, West Jeff, Pataskala and Brookville. Joe has had various first and second place trophies and has never come in last. This was good considering that there were eight riders fighting for five places. To be in the top you have to be prepared and Joe was. He worked out regularly and kept up the maintenance on his bike. "Oiling, greasing, doing what needs to be done" Joe said describing the essence of preperation. Joe plans to continue after he graduates if at all possible. " I have to keep in shape somehow," says Mr. Hilleary. I asked him why he does such an obviously strenuous and expensive sport. His reply was experience, competition, trophies, sponsorships (home) and meeting lots of people.

I'd Rather Rax, Wouldn't You?

-by Pat Phelan

"I'd rather Rax, wouldn't you?" It's 9:00 p.m. and you just got off of work with an enormous appetite. Rax sounds good. As you place your order and pull up to the drive-thru window you see some familiar faces. It might be Theresa Galloway, Amy Statzcar, or Jill Wolf, if you're lucky all three. You say hi, pay your bill, and drive off with your dinner. When you open up the bag you might see some items you didn't order or maybe a little extra of what you did. Yes, these three Franklin Heights seniors were known to slip a little extra in the bag now and then. Amy, Jill, and Theresa have also gotten into whip cream, ice and milkshake battles at work. They said, "It gets pretty wild when we all work."

Working at Rax had both advantages and disadvantages. The girls say the pay could have been better, a mere $3.35, and they had to get raises to make that. Their other complaint was about the bad hours they sometimes got. Some of the advantages were the free food and the way everyone got along like a family.

Amy, Theresa, and Jill did enjoy their jobs, but none of them seemed too interested in making a career of it.

Church Means A Lot

-by Sherry France

"I go to become a better person, a better Christian," Bob Davenport commented. Trinity Assembly of God, the church where everyone parks, has almost always had a large number of it's youth group attenders from Franklin Heights. This 85 and 86 school year is no exception to that. There are approximately 35 active youth in the church, of which 20-25 are students at Heights. There are at least 10 seniors in the Heights group.

"Youth group is a way of having fun without drugs and alcohol," another senior member stated. The youth group is very active. There is Sunday school every Sunday, afterglows Sunday nights and activities monthly. Outside of the church there are annual conventions of which all youth in the state of Ohio attend. In the summer there is also Sr. high camp which "No one can go and not enjoy himself," another senior commented.

The Assemblies of God is a very youth oriented church, they believe the youth of today is the church of tomorrow, and strive to better their youth. Although the Assembly of God is the only one mentioned so far, there are also other churches in the area , who are attended by Heights seniors and under classmen. The main point is ...there are seniors who go to church.

Seniors Serve 50 Customers

Apples, cabbage, lettuce, cheese, bleech, and amonia are only a few of the 60 items offered to over 50 customers served by senior food coop. Mr. Albertson, the seminar teacher, said that this coop is a student run business and that the students have really enjoyed the experience.

Students in this course monitored the whole process from item selection to sales and delivery. Some students were baggers, or inspectors, others handled cashier and delivery responsibilities. The budget for this year was $20,000 and according to Mr. Albertson all profits went back into the program. The records were kept by the students on the computer with the use of Appleworks Software.

Let's Go Krogering

-by Tom Robbins

The seniors had many different places of employment. One of the more popular places of employment was Krogers, a grocery store across the street from school. The seniors employed there were Kelley Donahue, Heidi Reeder, Brian Landis, John French, Rhonda Bocook, Ann Oberley and Max Combs.

Kelley Donahue said, "There are many advantages and disadvantages to working there. I started bagging then I got promoted to deli, then I got promoted to cashier, but before I knew it I was back to bagging. You don't get guaranteed any certain spot."

Some of the things they did to pass time were "playing football in the bread aisle when the manager wasn't around, we even played smash up derby with the carts."

Employee Heidi Reeder warns anyone planning to apply there, "Don't! It seems like a good place to work until you get a job like cleaning up cottage cheese in the deli or puke in the restrooms. I enjoyed the job when I was a cashier because I wasn't "Kroger" low life, but as a bagger you're underpaid for all you have to do. But I must admit, skiing down the pop bottle chute does make the job a little more bearable."

Seniors Re-Enact Book

Westside residents might have seen an unusual sight on May 30—students walking down Sullivant Avenue in 14th Century style garments, including cone hats draped with veils, and sackcloth clothes and tights.

About 27 seniors were completeing their studies in their English IV/CP class—combined World Literature and British Literature—and applying it by undertaking a pilgrimage.

Mr. Mann's class had been studying the Canterbury Tales, and plotted their course down Sullivant Avenue stopping five different times along the way to tell their varied stories. They stopped at Pizza Hut, where the weary travellers no doubt, took on some sustenance.

According to Mann, who acted as the innkeeper, the narrator in the Canterbury Tales, the students had had a week to read and study the story and were helped by the drama teacher in reinactng their characters.

STUDENT LIFE

The 1985-86 school year started off with a bang when we played Mt. Vernon. The Golden Falcon Express played extremely well, winning 28-0. The celebration Homecoming dance that followed gave the whole student body the opportunity to join in this big success. Our wrestlers dominated in the Holiday Wrestling Tournament. Then came the talent show, where we saw real talent and school spirit displayed by many students. Even our 85-86 wrestling team got in on the action. Our school plays were very well done. Senior Missy Crissman proved to be a true actress. Many students also received awards for outstanding achievements at the Senior Awards Assembly. Last came the 85-86 prom. It was held in the gymnasium, and put on by the junior class. It was extremely "radical!"

Court Enters By Carriage

The 1985 Homecoming festivities were started by the homecoming game October 11 against the Mt. Vernon yellow jackets. The falcons played a great game and won it 28-0.

At halftime of the game, the homecoming court entered the field by horse and carriage. They then were helped out of the carriage by their escorts.

The Senior attendants, Tammy Malone, Trisha Noble, and Kendra Wingo waited with the other attendants, Junior Becci Conkel, Sophomore Amy Phillips, and Freshman Michelle Matthews to see who would be crowned the homecoming queen. "I was very nervous." said Tammy Malone.

Finally, after a long wait Trisha Noble was crowned queen. "I was very happy. I don't set myself higher than anyone else but I felt privileged to even be on the court."

On Saturday, October 12 the homecoming dance was held in the school gymnasium. The student council hired a D.J. who had a video screen with the top 10 videos.It made the dance a little different than in previous years.

One Act Plays Fit The Bill

This past year the drama department put on 3 plays, two 1 act plays and one 3 act play. The fall production consisted of two 1 act plays, Ledge, Ledger, and Legend and But Listen. They decided on having the 1 act plays because of the inability to get into the auditorium due to the removal of asbestos. The library was going to be the stage for these plays if the auditorium wasn't finished and for that reason, the casts were small. They also chose the 1 act plays because they could get two 1 act plays done in the same or shorter time than a 3 act play and they had to stay within the time the school gave for the morning performances. In the spring, the play was a 3 act play called, Let him sleep until his funeral. This play was performed only at night and the drama department chose this play because it was a comedy and it was written for the high school/young adult level. The play had 3 actors who had never been in a play before so having this play helped out, it wasn't as serious as the rest. Not only did they have new actors, they also chose a new author. This author was not a well-known author so this play was a trial and error type play.

The winner was senior Bob Davenport playing "Lady" on his saxaphone. Second place winners were senior Tammy Malone and junior Amy Miekle doing a jazz dance to "Jungle Love." The third place winner was freshmen Shannon Barnett singing "Doubly Good To You." Other winners were the Varsity Cheerleaders with the best organization while dancing to the "Konga." The Wrestlers stepped up to win the best crowd pleaser with their state bound shuffle.

CITY LIGHTS

Prom In The Gym?

The 1986 Junior/Senior prom was not the traditional Franklin Heights prom. It was not held in a hotel or dance hall; it was held for the first time in 15 years in the school gymnasium.

At first many people were very upset about this, they thought the junior class was "bumming out" on them and they thought there wasn't going to be any work done as far as decorations were concerned. Instead though, the gym had been transformed into a miniature New York City. It was complete with the Brooklyn Bridge, New York Skyline, an outdoor cafe and Central Park. As you walked through the lighted tunnel an atmosphere of dancing, friends and enjoyment circled around you. After the prom was well on its way Chris Sharron and Trish Noble were announced prom king and queen. Then they led the next dance which was to the prom song When the lights go down in the city by Journey. Later on in the night another different addition to the prom—The Twist Contest. First the boys put their hips to the test then the girls' were tested. The top five from both the boys and the girls battled for the title king or queen twister. Finally, Phillip Bock was chosen "King Twister." For the first time in a long time people stayed longer and it was a success.

BLANKET

UNDERCLASS AND FACULTY

What made Franklin Heights unique in the 1985-86 school year? Students who hoped to graduate were required to take 19 credits by the time they finished their senior year. All students had minimum diploma requirements of: three English credits, one Mathematics credit, one Science credit, two Social Studies credits, and 1 Physical Education-Health credit. In many of the classrooms this year we saw more use of the computers, and new audio-visual equipment from the ERC. The new equipment was not the only surprise for underclassmen. There were also several new teachers for the 85-86 year. They included: Mr. Pat Scott, Mr. Vince Popo, Mr. Bill Kruczynski, Mr. Joe Harlow, and Mrs. Joan Ottolenghi.

Juniors: Brian Davis, Tim Baltzer, Holly Misicka, and Mr. Bill Brady examine their new friend in biology class.

Class of '87

by: Amy Mielke

The class officers of 85-86 worked really hard this year. The main thing we worked on was the prom. We decided that it might be neat to have the prom in the gym and spend the money on decorations instead of renting some place. Starting in March, we and some other juniors worked after school everyday from 3:30-5:00 nailing, hammering, painting, and cutting to pull off this prom held in the gym.

Other things we did were we picked 3 choices of graduation announcements that we thought the class would like and then had the class vote on them. Also the first week of every month we did "doughnut duty."

The officers were as follows: President, Tim Baltzer; Vice-President, Amy Mielke; Secretary, Stephanie Beery; and Treasurer, Natalie Burwell.

"TOAST"

by: Amy Mielke

This past year the junior class had the privilege of having a foreign exchange student with us. His name was Thorsten Meyer, also known as "Toast". He's from Cologne, West-Germany but while he was here he stayed at the Story residence.

Thorsten said he liked America but to him there really wasn't a big difference between America and his home country. He also enjoyed being on and playing for our soccer team and watching the football, basketball, and baseball games. (He was a great supporter.)

Toast said, "I really would like to thank everybody at F.H.H.S. for letting me have such a great time". And I'm sure many of us, I know I would, would like to thank him for letting us get to become friends with him. He's a super person and will be missed by many when he leaves. Good luck Toast, we'll miss you!

Russell and Ray- What a Pair

Mr. Russell (English teacher), and Mr. Ray (History teacher), are an interesting pair. You could say one of a kind. Throughout the year they have demonstrated several different ways of teaching. One method is the, as Mr. Ray puts it, "Teach me I learn, show me I understand method."

Mr. Russell has dressed as Professor Herbert and Swami River. Mr. Russell says, "This way creates variety in teaching style, and keeps the students interest level up." Professor Herbert was created in Mr. Russell's mind from a character in the book, Split Cherry Tree. He also did Swami River which he claims, "It just kind of came to me."

Then there is Mr. Ray. He has dressed up as Thomas Scopes from the famous Scopes Creation Evolution trial, and Socrates, the Great Greek Philosopher. Mr. Ray says, "I like to be totally different, that way they'll remember it!" He wants to prove that teachers can be just as crazy, or more crazy, than the students.

SPORTS

Falcon sports felt a new wave of enthusiasm this year. Not only were many programs on the up swing, but their was great excitement about the new field house under construction. Football was only a couple points from a league title. The soccer program made believers out of many. The girl's tennis program showed a new level of committment. And the Gymnastics team set new school records. Also, the boy's basketball team was very competetive in the league this year. Coach Underwood felt he had one of the greatest teams to work with in his long history as wrestling coach.

Athletic Director Ron Wheeler worked full time this year in his position as AD rather than dividing his time while teaching history. Wheeler worked hard to move along the plans for the new field house.

This overall positive, competetive spirit was contagious and showed the dedication and determination of the Falcon players and coaches.

With a smile on his face, Senior Kevin McFann enters the stadium locker rooms at half time during the Chillicothe game. The Falcons totally dominated this game winning 45-7.

It was a very successful year for the Golden Falcon Express. The team, under second year coach, Jeff Gafford went on to a 7-3 record.

The Falcon offense was ranked first in the Ohio Capital Conference. The defence was ranked third.

Another great victory was the 45-7 win over Chillicothe, giving them their first loss in the OCC. After the game Kevin Oney was named player of the week in the Columbus Dispatch.

Special players of the year were: Doug Jones- Most Valuable Player, Doug Hardin and Kevin McFann- Best Linemen, Kevin Oney- Best Back, John Ising- Best Defensive Player, Scott Burns- Best Offensive Player, Scott Ray- Best Special Teams Player, Steve Hansford- Most Improved Player, Tim Hill- Coaches Award.

Soccer is Successful Story

There are four Story's that help to explain the success of this year's team: (1) Coach Bob Story, (2) Bobby story, (3) Chris Story, and (4) Scott Story. Total scoring points, including goals and assists, by Bobby, Chris, and Scott equaled 49. Bobby was the leading scorer while Chris was second and Scott was 4th.

But of course the Story's were not the whole picture. According to Coach Kuhl, the heart of the team was the four Seniors. Tom Waller, Jeff Decker, Bobby Story, and Brad Harding. Also, German foreign exchange student, Thorsten Meyer brought a lot of experience to the team from his European experience with soccer.

Receiving the award of Most Valuable player was Bobby Story. Tom Waller was selected defensive player of the year. The offensive player of the year was Chris Story. And the Coach's award went to Brad Harding.

Kensey Builds Character

Although many people think of Cross Country as a small team sport, this year's team carried 18 members. Cross Country is also the only sport at FHHS to be coed. Summer practice started at 7:00 AM. The girls ran 6 miles. The guys ran 8 to 10 miles. Practice often included sprints up "Big Bertha" a hill at Big Run Park.

Senior Julie Walters was impressed with Coach Kensey. "He was always up," Julie said, "and always kept me going." Julie also said, "Coach Kensey cares a lot about the runners as individuals. He is someone you don't want to let down." According to Julie, Coach Kensey is concerned with building up character. Before competing the coach would pray with the team.

Even though the team did not do as well as they would have wanted several runners said they enjoyed their efforts. Most of the runners had met their standards. Senior Mitch Meisner made the second team of OCC. Mitch was slightly disapponinted he didn't make district. Awards were given for their efforts. Mitch Meisner and Julie Walters were awarded Most Valuable. Tom Egelhoff was considered Most Dedicated. Most Improved was Wendy Delchicco. For the next Cross Country team Senior Mitch Meisner had this advice, "Work hard and give it all you got!"

Girl's Tennis

Great Attitude

The Lady Falcon Tennis team had a remarkable season this year. They had 17 matches, which is 3 more than last year, and only missed one game and one practice because of rain. They made up the game later on in the season, so that made it a full season.

Some positions a few of the members played were: Kara Peterson-first single, Becky Daugherty-second singles, and Melody Freeman-third singles. The coach, Tom Mann, was impressed with Cristina McCampbell's performance at the third singles position. She played a lot of long matches which showed that she was a very patient player and a real competetor.

Coach Mann was pleased with his young team consisting of 4 sophomores and one freshman. He had a total of eight players and you only need seven to play varsity. The awards a few of the players received were : The Coach's Award went to senior Becky Daughtery and sophomore Carol Dennis was voted MVP. Despite the teams record, Coach Mann was satisfied with their attitude and has great hopes for next year.

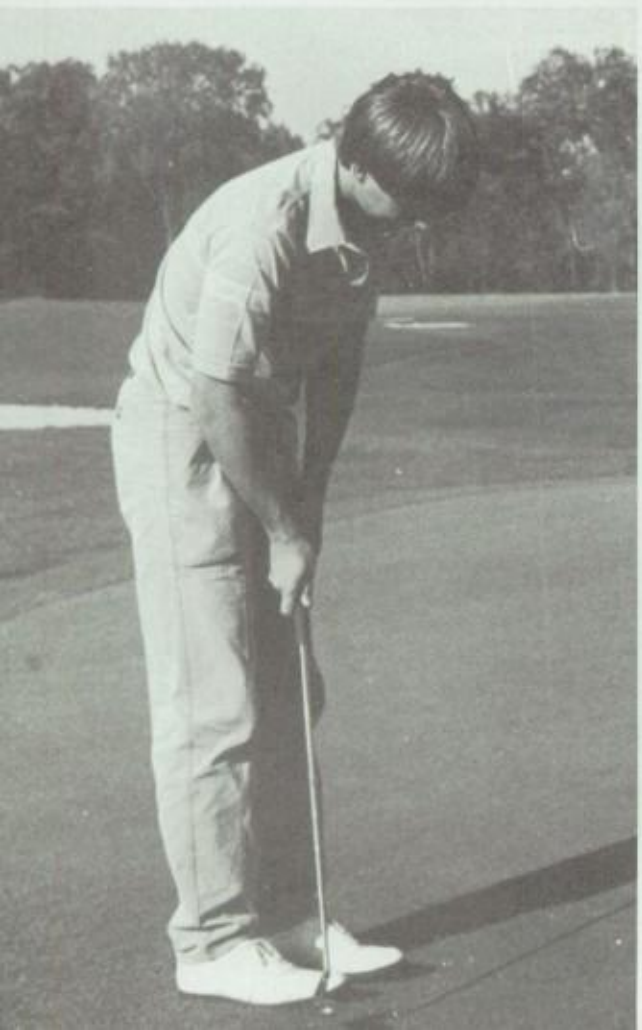
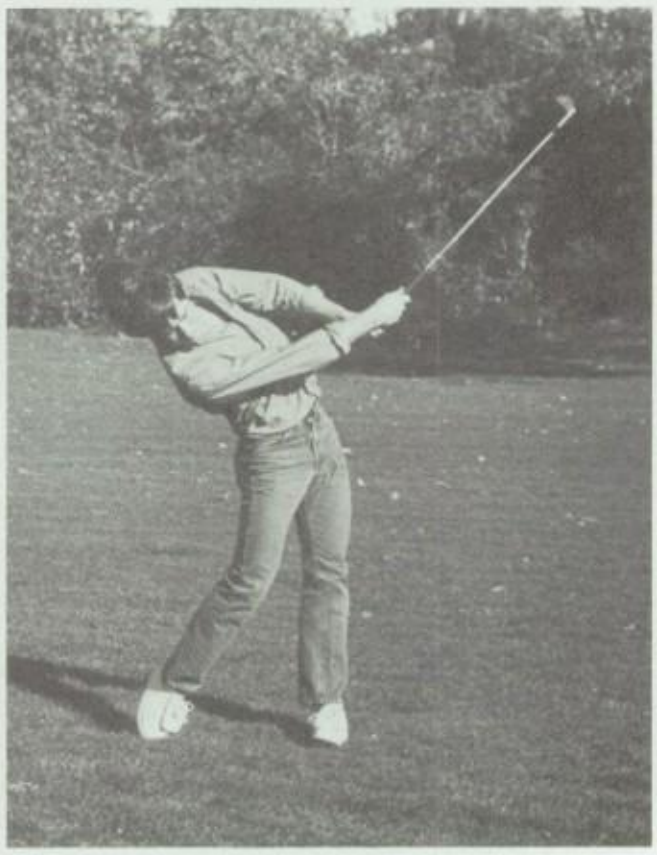
Doyle Earns Low Average

The Falcon Golf team had a progressive year this season, the season started on August 27, with a match against Westerville North and Bexley, and ended with the district match. The team ended 6th out of 18 teams and were 4 strokes from moving on in the state tournmanent. Many of the team members were a little disappointed in the beginning but came out strong in the end. Senior Todd Rodgers feels next years team has alot of potential but it will take a lot of effort and hard work to bring this out. The members received new golf bags which were badly needed. The season ended with Senior Roy Porter receiving the Coaches Award and Junior Matt Doyle finished earning the lowest stroke average. On November 7 the banquet was held at Bonaza Steak House, where awards were given.





"We Don't Give Up!

Admittedly the 1985 season record for the Falcon volleyball team appears dismal, but wins and losses don't always tell the whole story. This year's team carried only one senior and one junior, while starting four freshman. Senior, Theresa Galloway said that the team was very inexperienced, but that they "wanted to win, tried as hard as (they) could, and didn't give up."

Theresa had a lot of praise for Coach Wes Love. "He is a great coach and really knows what he is doing. He was always there to talk to."

Those players achieving special recognition were: Strongest Defensive Player; Tina Clark, Strongest Defensive Player; Jean George, Most Improved Player; Sara Lamb, and Coach's Award; Theresa Galloway.

Matmen Had a Successful Season

The Falcon matmen completed a very successful season by winning two tournaments: Holiday and Grandview, finishing runner-up in the league, and having a winning dual season. The team achieved many school records in wrestling this season.

Much of the success of the team came about because of nine seniors. Our tri-captains providing excellent leadership were: Mitch Meisner, Tony Klein and Doug Hardin. Kevin McFann, Scott Burns, Dan Greenlee, Pat McVey, Jason Lathem, and Dale Jones were other seniors who had excellent seasons. The coaches Underwood, Falk, and Reed felt that the team lived up to this years motto "Wrestle with class."

According to senior wrestler, Scott Burns, the team had a successful season this year because the team worked well together, everyone put in a good effort to do their best and get along with everybody. The practices were well organized and the wrestlers not only practiced long and hard, but had fun as well. Scott Burns thought most of the success of the team was due to how close all of the wrestlers were. They helped each other out, and not only practiced together, but did things out of school as well. Scott also said, "We set high goals for the season, not all were met, but most were satisfied. We felt we accomplished a lot."

Walters Sets School Records

This years gymnastics team may look fragile, but underneath they were hard working athletes. These ladies had a successful year. With a lot of sweat, determination and hard work, they had more wins than losses.

Their hard training included: laps, a stretch routine, and gymnasitcs "trick." After the warm up they practiced their routines. Even after all the practice they worked out with weights in the weight room. "Gymnastics may look easy and people may think it's fun, but it takes alot of hard work. It makes you strong physically and mentally," said Senior Julie Walters, who was a four year gymnastics team member.

Among those awarded for their hard efforts were: Julie Walters, Senior, Most Valuable, Stacey Deliz, Sophomore, Coach's Award, and Holly Misicka, Junior, Most Improved.

Julie Walters proved to be a true hard working gymnast. Julie made some very impressive scores, in fact she set four new school records. These records were: total points scored in career and the season, record set for the floor exercise, and all-around. On top of setting several new records she made All-O.C.C. League Selection.

Best Season in 7 Years

Varsity basketball this year, coached by Coach Dave Moore had the most successful season in seven years with a 7-7 league record and 10-12 overall. Coach Moore was very pleased with the way his team played during the season this year, although he felt there were a few games that they should have won. Coach Moore said, "We beat the teams we were supposed to beat, but the losses came to the teams that were higher in the standings." He said, "One of the reasons for the loses was a lack of intensity." Overall Coach Moore was happy with this years team.

Highlights of this season: This years team was the first team in nine years to win a tournament game. In the tournament Franklin Heights knocked out Marion Franklin 69-55. Continuing in the tournament Franklin Heights faced the number one seeded Brookhaven. Heights hung on for three quarters only down at the half by one point. At the conclusion Brookhaven outscored FHHS 70-53 ending Heights participation in the tournament.

Another exciting game was with the Delaware Pacers at Delaware, who were 16-3 and one game out of first place at the time. At the half Delaware led FHHS by nine points. Heights in the second half pulled together to come back and defeat the redhot Pacers of Delaware with a score of 57-54.

At the conclusion of the season, Mark Cobb was picked Second Team All League, and Chris Waddle was named Honorable Mention.

The Year For Firsts

This year was the first for a lot of things in cheerleading. For one, the O.C.C. league passed a rule that there were to be no more mounts. They felt too many people were getting hurt and it was too dangerous. This was a big switch for the cheerleaders and they didn't like it too well. "I don't think it's fair because all sports are dangerous in some way," said freshman Debbie Price

Another first was having "secret pals." The cheerleaders did this to boost the morale and raise the spirit within the football team. Each girl on the varsity and junior varsity squads had at least 3 football players to buy or make things for. These were their "secret pals" and during the football season on every Friday at 2nd period the guys received their goodies. Junior player Lennie Rhoades said when asked about secret pals, "I liked it a lot and I appreciated it."

The senior players received from their "secret pal" scrap books (also a first) of their last year in high school football. Steve Mason and Ken Arsenault commented on the books. "I think its great! They should do this for all seniors," Mason said. While Arsenault said that he still looks at his scrapbook.

Along with firsts there was something that stayed the same, the importance of grades. In order to try out each girl must have evaluations filled out by every teacher and have a 2.0 GPA. This must also continue throughout the year. They have to have sheets with their grades filled out by their teachers every week and must have C's or higher to cheer. The only exception is if the class is weighted then they may have a D but absolutely no F's are permitted.

Varsity takes first

The basketball season was not only a season in which the cheerleaders cheered and supported the team, it also was a competition season. The first competition they went to was a dance competition where they did their pom-pom routines. It was held on February 23 at Westland High School. Both the varsity and the junior varsity teams competed. The varsity squad entered the varsity division taking first place along with the junior varsity first place in their division. The second competition was on March 15 at Grove City High School. It was the Franklin Heights Annual Invitational Cheerleading Contest with about 100 squads entering. The varsity squad placed first beating some squads that had been known for their cheerleading. Not only did the cheerleaders leave with their first place trophy for their cheerleading, they also left with another trophy. This time it was for having a big crowd which came to cheer them on.

As before with the football season, the cheerleaders continued having "secret pals." Scrapbooks were also given to the senior basketball players of their last year in Heights basketball. This season the basketball team were not the only one's to receive scrapbooks, the senior cheerleaders also received them. Which was a big suprise to them. While they were making scrapbooks for the basketball players, other cheerleaders were making one for them.

Friend Claims MVP

Although the varsity squad didn't win the league title, they played a strong season. All the players seemed to be very hardworking, talented, team members. Even though there was plenty of competition towards the other teams they hung in there and came in 5th place. According to John Erwin, the Falcons' best game was with Hilliard. "It was a long and tiring game, but we stuck to it until we won!"

The most valuable player was Mike Friend. His batting average was .500 and when pitching he was always there to give it his all. Most improved player was Glenn Anderson. He began to hit extremely well towards the ending season. All the team members did an outstanding job this season and their school is very proud of them.

Stinson- All League

The Softball team played a tough schedule this year. According to head coach Doug Roberts, FHHS played in the toughest league in the state. The best game of the season was against Hilliard where the team played solid defense and had the most explosive offense of the season. Speaking of the season, Roberts commented that the team worked very hard and the bottom line was that the team improved greatly.

This year's team was not without its honors and distinctions. Senior Kellie Stinson was selected 1st Team All League, while freshman Molly Malone was on the All League 2nd Team list. Honorable Mention went to Jami Church. Kellie was also selected as the team's MVP. Trisha Noble earned the Most Improved Player Award, and LuEllen Kuykendoll was chosen for the Coach's Award.

Individual Success

This year's team was small and developed a lot of injuries. As a result there were few team successes, but there was success of the individual level. Kassey Knowles set a school record in the discus and placed 6th in the OCC. Sonya Clark also placed 6th in the 800 meters in the OCC. She was just off the school record in the 800 and the 1600 meter. Stephanie Parker got 3rd in the district in the 100m. She also advanced to the regional meet. Jean George did a good job in the shot put , Sara Lamb in hurdles and Nikki Gouch in the 400m. Stephanie Parker was selected as the Most Valuable Player.

Stats Really Appreciated

Sports stats are rarely recognized as being important when it comes to a sport. But the sports stats have a very hard job. They have to keep track of everyone on the team, what they're doing, whether it's a steal in basketball, a tackle in football, or a takedown in wrestling. Sound easy? You try it! While you have the screaming coaches arguing with you about the score. Not only the coach from your side, but the opposing side and the many loud, hostile fans. We try our best to get the guys psyched and keep them pumped up and when we lose it not only hurts them, but we feel the loss as well. Whichever sport you stat you become very close with the players. But, being a sports stat does have it's rewards, your recognized at the end of the season, and recognized and greatly appreciated by the players and coaches throughout.

CLUBS

Our organizations did a wonderful job of representing F.H.H.S. for the 1985-86 school year. Our Heights Marching band did an excellent job during half-time at the football games. Our girls ensemble received many superior ratings, and did extremely well in concert. Our choir groups showed dedication and effort that payed off. We had a regional officer from our IOE program. Our DECA program took us all the way to Atlanta, Georgia for national competition. Our orchestra and concert band were two big successes. Our tercel and spectrum staff's have shown us a new meaning to the word dedication, and our student council members did a great job on activities throughout the year. Our newest organization was Young Life. This was a Christian based group, opened to all students.

Practice Time Shows In Performance

Have you ever looked on the Franklin Heights Football Practice field about 3:30 on Tuesday and Thursdays between the months of September and November you may have seen a scray sight what looked like mass confusion. About 60 mad people running around carrying instruments squeeking and schrilling, figuring out last minute music; drums playing to the beat cymbals and bells in melody, and about 10 or 12 girls tossing, turning and flipping multicolored flags. You may even hear one or two people yell "Band Attend Hut," these magic words silence the whole group this strange and mixed up group is better known as our band. These magic words are most often yelled by Band Director Mr. Noonan or his Assistant Mr. Ray. Sophomore, Jenny Waller said,"Band takes a lot of hard work and dedication."She also said, "At times you just have to Grin and Bear it." Assistant Band Director Mr. Ray said "I think the hours the band puts into practice is greatly reflected by their performance. To see this group on the practice field and then on the football field on Friday nights is like the difference between night and day.

They do quite well for themselves on a merky Saturday morning at 6:30 a.m. at State Competition. Which they worked their way to by the second competition. Not many people realize all the hard work and training the band goes through, they start in mid June and end in late November with practice after school and continous work at home. So the next time you see a band or flag member give them a pat on the back for all their hard work and effort its a well deserved pat; one that received our school many awards and tropies. Our band is one of the many organization that makes our school one to be proud of.

Band Receives Superior Rating

Just about the time autumn turns to winter, the marching band puts away their marching shoes. It's time for many hours of rehersal in the band room, instead of out on the practise field. This year the concert band went to OMEA concert band competition at Upper Arlington High School and received a superior rating in sight reading, and an excellent rating over all. Most of the members feel it was Mr. Noonan's attitude that took them to the height of their achievements.

The Falconette Drill Team, stated by Rosalyn Young, had a very successful year under supervision of Donna Freemen and Mary Skinner.

The team worked very hard during the season. They practiced every night after school and on saturdays with some sundays also for 3 hours a day.

The Falcons performed at the Franklin Heights Talent Show. They also performed at the Westland Mall and Basketball games during halftime.

They went to many competitions. They placed 2nd in the line competition and 3rd in the 8 minute show at Zanseville. They placed 3rd in line at West Carolton and placed 5th in the all around at the state competition.

C.O.E., which stands for "Cooperative Office Education," seemed to be a group of hard working young students. This class was divided into two different classes;one of which was Genreral Clerical, which included most general office duties such as typing, filing, and answering phones. The other class included other duties such as working on computers, and learning "Apple Works".

According to Senior Becky Null C.O.E. members kept busy with Employer Banquets, Parent Breakfasts, numerous fieldtrips, state competition, and everyday class activities. Once a year the employers of FHHS students in the C.O.E. program are invited into the school. The fieldtrips took students to local businesses where actual business environments could be observed. State competition allowed students to show off their verbal, typing, filing, information communication, and machine transcription skills.

Learning Real Business

M.E. I Junior year students are in school all day. Their class involves three parts: classroom, DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America), and lab-time. Classroom covers math, sales, retail, distribution, advertising, selling, marketing, display, economics, and the free enterprise system. DECA is the marketing students club. They participate in competitive events at district, state, and national levels, and do many activities that refer back to the four points on the DECA Diamond. (Leadership Development, Civic Consciousness, Social Intelligence, and Vocational Understanding.) Then comes their lab-time which is the school store, "IMAGES." Through different management teams they operate every aspect involved in a real business.

M.E. II Senior year students also have classroom, DECA, and lab-time. They study public speaking with Toastmaster's International, do computer work, and develop marketing and business skills. They do many activities through DECA also. Seniors have classroom in the mall, do fund raisers, have Employer/Employee banquets, and hold Parliamentary meetings to take care of business. These meetings are run by chapter president and officers. Their lab is on the job where they demonstrate marketing knowledge. This course is designed for those who wish to work or continue on to college after graduation. There are also scholarships available through DECA.

New Committment

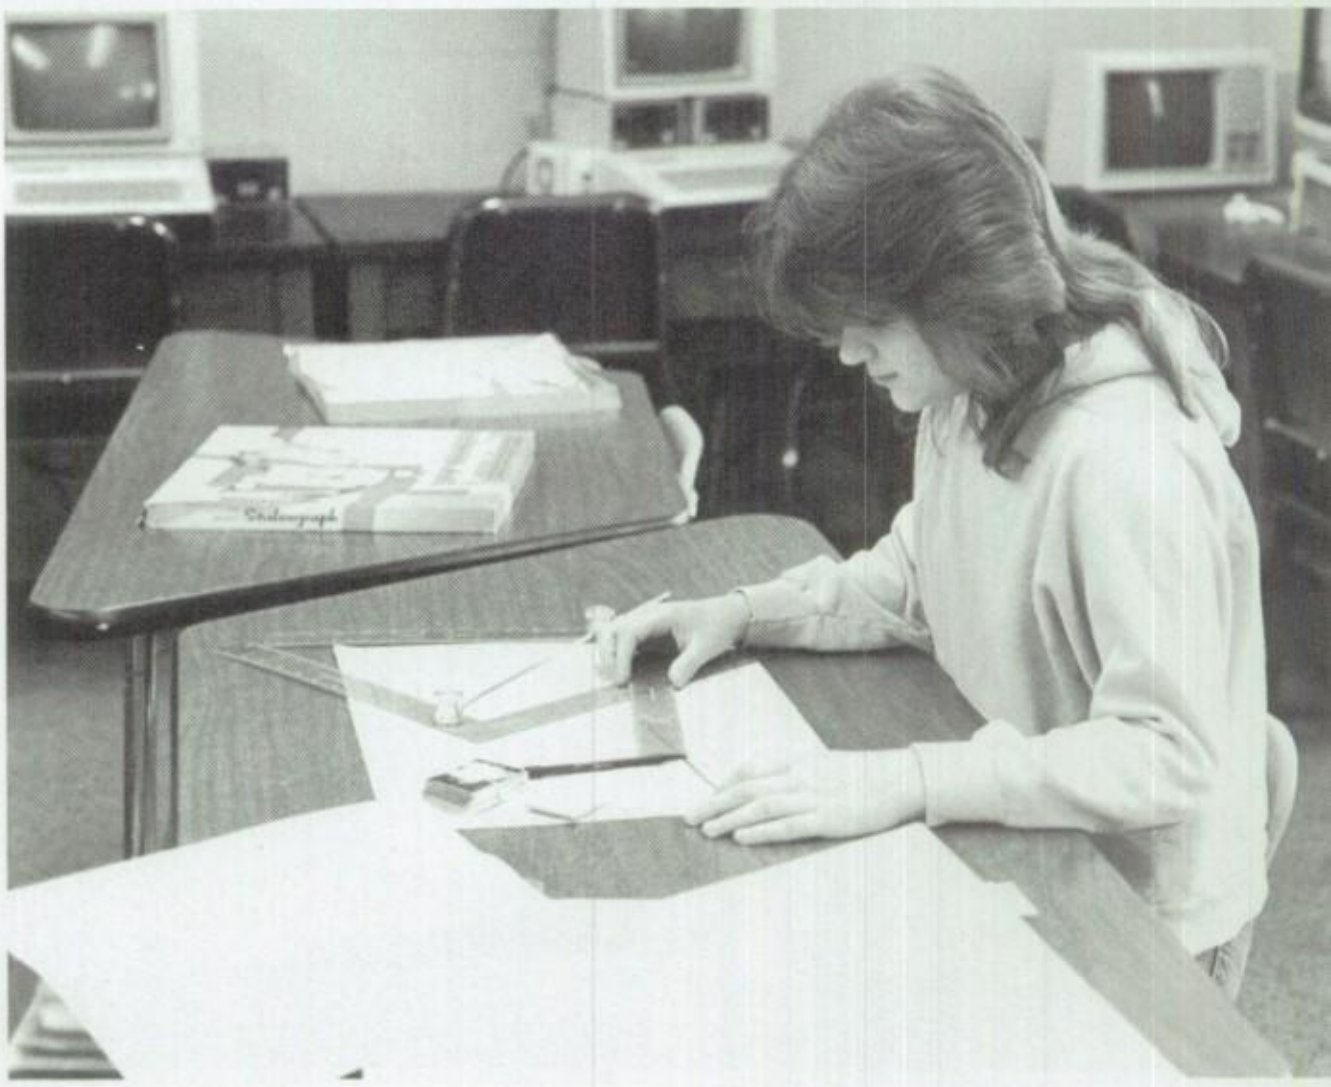
by: Tammy Malone

The Tercel staff made some tremendous changes throughout the school year. For one, we had a new advisor, Mr. Tom Mann. He brought new and exciting ideas to improve our book, such as writing stories to go with pictures. Whether it's an activity or an event there was a story on the page. We also took and developed our own pictures. Phillip Bock, Jenny Waller, and Craig Hanna spent many long hours in the darkroom. "It was a lot of hard work, but I enjoyed it," said Phillip.

One thing that helped the staff a lot was working a couple of hours on the saturday before the deadline. On saturdays we got more work done in one day than we would in three days during the week. "I liked saturdays, because there were no interuptions and we could take our time," said Amy Mielke.

Mr. Mann said he was really pleased with many things this year. He was glad that with it being his first year the book paid for itself. He also said he was pleased with the increased number of pre-sale books. He also appreciated the help we received from Johnson's Photographics. They supplied us with all the film and materials necessary.

Overall the year went very well. Each year we're going to make a committment to make our book better and more interesting.



Freshman Christy Pennington puts the finishing touches on the freshman section.

Auletta Will Be Missed

by Missy Crissman

Learning and patience were the keys to this year's newspaper. The eighteen member staff had only one returning member and the newspaper advisor to lead it through the year.

This young staff put out eight monthly issues of the Spectrum. In its seventeenth year of publication, the paper was successful and maintained the good reputation on which it had been built.

Spectrum advisor Bonnie Auletta completed her fourth and last year with the paper. Leaving Franklin Heights because of her recent marriage, her experience will be greatly missed. The dedication, pride, and long, hard hours she put into the paper were the main reason for the paper's success. Her talents will be missed but her devotion will be long remembered.

OM goes to state competition

This year the Olympics of the Mind team was again very successful. This is the second year Franklin Heights has had this new team, and both years they have gone to the state competition. Olympics of the Mind is an organization that is put together and designed for students of all ages to express new and especially creative ideas. Schools form groups to solve special problems created by the OM organization. These problems have there own special rules and limitations. If a team is good enough it progresses through district competition, to the regionals, and then goes to the state competition.

The teams success was based on the experience that was obtained from the past year in OM (Olympics of the Mind). Tim Baltzer was the main structure builder, and and the rest of the team contributed in preparation for the skit and in the "spontaneous competition."

At the first competition the FHHS team set a Franklin County record holding 191 lbs. on a structure that weighed 25 grams. The team received plaques and awards. They went on to take first place in the regional competition and 7th in the state. Tim Baltzer said "this was an interesting and fun season in Olympic of the Mind."

The In the Know team didn't have an outstanding year, but give credit where credit is due. To be chosen for the In the Know team, participants had to take a series of competitives tests. The first test was given to the participants orally and the top 16 scores went on to compete in the final test. This final test was played in the fashion of the real game. The starting team was decided by the scores on this test. The team played both at the WOSU studio and interscholastically at other high schools.

Work Can Be Fun

Many students spend their study hall time working in the ERC or the different offices of the school.

In the attendance office the students answer phones and take messages. They also take passes to rooms at a teacher's request. When a student comes to school late or needs an admit slip, the worker fills out the necessary papers. "It was a lot of fun and a pleasure to work with the teachers, "said Tina Burke.

The Guidance office operates in about the same way. The students answer the phones, take messages and deliver passes. The also schedule a person who wants to meet with a counselor.

In the Main office, the students mainly keep an eye on things when the secretaries are out. They answer the phones and take messages too.

The workers in the ERC help the student body a lot. They help students find books and magazines. They put returned books back on the shelf and check out the books the students want.

Key Club Boasts 54 Members

This years Key Club was an extraordinary group of students. Key Club 1985-86 had a total of 54 hard working members.

Key Club kept on their toes. They were very supportive of the school and also worked to help the community. Key Club sponsored many fund raisers and events. Several were: the school morning donut sale, candy cane sale, several car washes, two pancake days, a "kick and punt" day and more.

There were quite a few "get togethers" and activities. There were two conventions, both in which FHHS Key Club members attended. One was in Columbus and the International was in Arizona. The fund raisers helped pay for part of the money for the members that had gone to Arizona.

There were several members this year, then there were the adopted ones. At the Key Club banquet the Key Club announced the new members. The new members were: Mr. Noonan, the FHHS band director, Mrs. Dennis, a helping mother, Mr. & Mrs. Bidwell, for helping control the car washes and anything that need done. Key Club says a warm "thank you" to all of those who helped them.

The Key Club officers were: President; Bob Davenport, Vice President; Lori Chrisman, Secretary; Diane Swisher, Treasurer; Patty West.

"Key Club is a wonderful experience, you learn so many things about yourself and others." quoted one Key Club member. To the members of Key Club, being in Key Club is thrilling because you get to help and meet others.

"The hard work pays off and we have a lot of fun."

Faculty Rates New Members

The selection process for The National Honor Society has seemed to some a procedure shrowded in mystery. But in reality it is very systematic. According to Mr.Hamilton, Guidance Counselor and NHS advisor, the process begins by listing all juniors and seniors with a 3.25 GPA. The first semester GPA calulation is used. All professional staff members rate the eligible students as to the students character, service, and leadership using a 5 point scale. Every rating is considered by a committee of faculty members. This committee interprets the teachers' ratings and selects students worthy of membership.

There was an honor breakfast for the 9th and 10th graders who were on the honor roll after the first semester. They had Spaghetti dinners, an ice cream social fund raiser and also teacher appreciation week to honor the teachers. Award scholarships were also given.

Cadets See Philadelphia

This year the NJROTC program had a very successful and eventful year. The program had more participation than previous years and received more support from the student body and especially the Franklin Heights Band. ROTC started off the year taking a trip to Philadelphia and Sandy Hook, New Jersey. There they visited naval air stations, naval ships and took a ride on a NJROTC owned boat to see the Statue of Liberty. Later in the year cadets took trips to Michigan, Indiana, and West Virginia for competitions. In March, 30 cadets got to go to the Military Naval Training Center (NTC) in Great Lakes, Illinois. Cadets underwent military basic training. In May ROTC conducted their annual Sunset Review, which is the last big ceremony of the year. The FHHS band participated in this graduation for the first time in 14 years. Dee Seizmore was a stand-out in the ROTC program this year. "She demonstrated outstanding qualities in leadership, dedication, and loyalty," said Senior Chief John Leers. In the awards assembly Dee received more awards than any single cadet in 5 years. Both Leers and Friedman were pleased with the program this year.

Hi Jackie,
Sure was a lot of fun to be around you guys last summer. I got a lot of work done for my classes this semester, I hope you did well on your exams. Everything is going great for me, I got engaged to Stephanie over Christmas break and we're getting married in June. I don't see how you could've had time to do anything else with all of your activities. You're so involved on campus you've got every thing going for you, you're special!!

Love ya,
